

OFFICIAL LANGUAGE OF BUSINESS - PROCUREMENT POLICY

WireCo WorldGroup is a United States based global company. For this reason, we have established English as the official language of business correspondence.

Communications to WireCo WorldGroup Headquarters and any document that needs to be reviewed by Legal Counsel or the Director of Global Procurement should be in English.

At the discretion of each WireCo World Group facility, they may also communicate with suppliers in the official language of the country they are located in, if different from English, provided the supplier is able to fluently communicate in that language.

If the meaning or content of our communications is ever unclear, we expect our suppliers to contact us promptly so any misunderstandings can be eliminated. In situations where translations are used, the English version shall always be binding.
